

Harriman To Detail 'Significant' Soviet Talks To LBJ

MOSCOW (AP) — American diplomat W. Averell Harriman talked with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin on Thursday about Viet Nam and other world affairs and said later he had "some significant information" to report to President Johnson. He refused to tell reporters what the information was.

But he appeared satisfied with his three hours of secret Kremlin discussions.

Harriman, a U.S. ambassador at large and America's most experienced negotiator with the Russians, said he expected to meet other Soviet officials during his stay here. "I don't know whom," he added.

He met Kosygin shortly after the Soviet premier returned to Moscow from a provincial tour. The meeting followed reports that the Kremlin was awaiting some new Western initiative on Viet Nam.

There were indications that disarmament might also have played an important part in Harriman's talk. The Soviet Union agreed a few days ago to resume disarmament talks in Geneva.

Harriman told reporters he would report to President Johnson personally before discussing his talk with Kosygin.

He had drafted a report to Washington on the talk, Harriman said. "I always cable when I think something is significant. Today I think there was some significant information to cable to Washington.

A Soviet official was quoted by Communist correspondents as saying the meeting was "of an informative character."

Harriman has illustrated the points of view of his government on the international situation, and the situation in Viet Nam could not be omitted.

Asked about this, Harriman declined to comment. "I'm going to be utterly, completely uncooperative," he told reporters with a smile.

Harriman is the top-ranking man to come here from Washington for talks since Kosygin took over as premier.

The two met in the same Kremlin office where Harriman met with Stalin while he was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's wartime ambassador to Moscow and where he had meetings in 1959 and 1963 with Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Except for the information for Communist journalists, the Soviet government issued only a brief announcement. It said Harriman was here as "a private person and an important American" and that he was accompanied in the meeting by U.S. Ambassador Roy D. Kohler, Mikhail N. Smirnovsky, head of the U.S. desk in the Soviet Foreign Ministry, and with Kosygin.

Aidan sources who had Kremlin conversations on Viet Nam late last week said they believed Soviet leaders were awaiting some new Western initiative. Over the weekend Soviet leaders conspicuously neglected to repeat denunciations of U.S. Vietnamese policy in public speeches.

Thursday's meeting resulted from a request by Harriman, before he left Washington last week, to meet Soviet leaders "to lay his respects," he told reporters. He said he brought no message and did not come to negotiate.

Kosygin thought the meeting important enough to see Harriman immediately upon returning from a provincial tour, and he devoted three hours to it. But diplomatic observers say no sign that the Soviet Union was able to budger from its awkward position on Viet Nam.

Diplomats give this view:

The Soviet Union does not want the fighting there to escalate into a danger of nuclear war with the United States. But it must appear somewhat militant in order to fend off Red Chinese attempts to take over world Communist leadership on the ground that Moscow has gone soft.

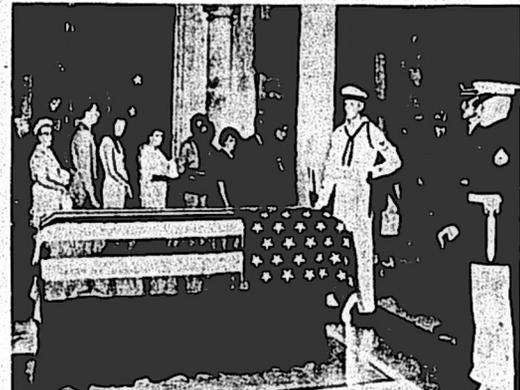

Faking has accused Moscow of selling out the Communist cause in Viet Nam to the United States and telling Washington of everything it does on the subject as well as sending aid to Hanoi.

Shortly after Harriman arrived in Moscow Monday, the Soviet Union announced that it had promised to increase military and economic aid to Hanoi. The military aid is designed to counter U.S. attacks, an announcement indicated.

Informed observers suggested that disarmament probably was another topic of Harriman's talk with Kosygin. The Soviet Union informed Washington a few days ago that it was willing to resume disarmament talks in Geneva shortly.

The only public statement Harriman made after his talks with Kosygin was that "We discussed my personal plans in the Soviet Union during the coming week." He said earlier he might travel but an embassy spokesman had no details on this.

LBJ Grieves As Plane Lands With Adlai's Flag Draped Casket

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson watched with sorrowful attention Thursday night as the mortal remains of Adlai Ewing Stevenson, world statesman, came home in a flag-draped casket.

The President paid the late ambassador to the United Nations an unusual tribute by journeying in a helicopter to Andrews Air Force Base to be present as the body arrived from London.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, his wife and several other Cabinet members met the plane at the airport.

As the 28 mourners aboard the presidential jet which bore the casket back from London stepped down, Johnson stood at the foot of the ramp to shake hands.

Among the mourners were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, and Stevenson's three sons, Adlai III, John Pell, and Borden.

The mourners walked through a joint honor cordon of 40 men in uniform with gold crosses, Chaplain Col. John L. Rhea of the Military District of Washington led the procession.

Johnson conducted the casket to a hearse for its journey to Washington National Cathedral.

The casket, draped with an American flag, was slowly borne by an honor guard of eight servicemen, the Air Force band sounded ruffles and flurries, "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and "America the Beautiful." One of the waiting mourners, Mrs. John Pell Stevenson, cried openly.

A crowd of about 500 spectators stood behind a rail.

Memorial services will be held Friday — 11 a.m. — at Washington's National Cathedral (Episcopal). Johnson will attend. Until the service, the body will lie in repose at the cathedral.

The body was placed overnight in a small, simple chapel of the cathedral.

As a Marine band played "Abide With Me" and honor troops from the three military services stood at attention, the casket was taken from the hearse into the Bethlehem Chapel.

Humphrey, members of the family and others in the formal party stood silently through the brief ceremony.

The chapel was opened to the public and hundreds began paying their last respects. Arrangements were made for the little chapel open to the public all night until just before Friday's memorial ceremony.

Then the body will be flown to Springfield, Ill., where Stevenson served as governor, to lie in state in the Capitol rotunda.

State officials said it would be in state from Friday afternoon until Sunday morning.

Burial will be in Bloomington,

Ill., Monday. The exact time of this private, family service has not yet been set.

The United Nations in New York, where Stevenson served as eloquent ambassador for the United States, will hold a memorial service at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The President has named Secretary of State Dean Rusk to speak there on behalf of the United States.

The American Embassy in London, outside which Stevenson died suddenly Wednesday, at the age of 61, informed the State Department that death

McNamara, Lodge Arrive In Tightly-Guarded Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Ambassador-designate, Henry Cabot Lodge arrived Friday for a top-level survey of McNamara said would center on whether more U.S. combat troops should be sent here.

Saigon's airport was lightly guarded by hundreds of U.S. and Vietnamese soldiers to thwart several suspected bomb plots against the two. There were reports as many as a score of persons were detained.

McNamara ended the Joint Chiefs of Staff had unanimously recommended an increase of combat troops — he did not mention other U.S. forces — but then added that use of American combat troops was one of the "prime missions" of his trip here.
